

Luna and Lucy

By Maelee S

My sister Lucy and I have never gotten along. And with going to high school our rivalry just got bigger. The school was wanting a Student President. So, I ran and so did my sister. I know she can't be President because of her bullying and vandalism. I need to reveal her dark secrets.

I walked down a hall to my locker. Stella ran up to me with her long brown hair flopping back and forth wearing her classic black T-shirt with purple pants. Stella was my only friend. Stella and I were planning how to expose Lucy.

"Luna guess what." Stella said breathing hard.

"what?" I said.

"I just found out that I can put up cameras around the school. Because I run the newspaper." Stella said happily.

"That's awesome! This can help us expose Lucy." I exclaimed while doing a little hop.

We ran to the newspaper room, also known as our Headquarters. The room was dark and small. The only lighting in the room was the computer screens. Stella showed me every part of the school using the cameras.

"See Luna, this will be perfect for our plan." Stella said writing a note.

"Indeed, but Lucy has a trick for getting off cameras." I said.

"What's the trick?" Stella asked.

"She has a photographic memory and will notice anything new that comes up." I said sadly

Stella thought for a second and said, "I can make it work, don't worry."

Then we heard on the Mic "Can Luna Carly come to the principal's office."

"Well bye Luna and good luck" said Stella as she hugged me goodbye.

I hugged back, then left the room. What did Lucy do now? She probably vandalized and used L.C. for her art work. I sighed as I walked into the principal's office. When I saw the principal had a mad face and was wearing his typical black suit. I walked to the brown leather chair and sat down.

"Were you vandalizing again Luna?" Asked the principal.

"No sir, I've never vandalized in my life." I said weakly.

"I believe you, but your sister said she saw you do it." The principal said.

"She lied! I would never do that." I said angrily.

"I know you and your sister don't get along very well, but she told me that you did, she even showed me a picture" The principal said, grabbing out the picture Lucy gave him.

I looked at the picture, it was the pose I only did where I stand on one foot and look like I'm trying to climb the wall. I was holding up two spray cans. I knew she edited the photo. Because I know she has a picture of me doing that pose. I knew she was mean but not this mean. The principal walked me out of the office. He then shut the door behind me. A tear ran down my face while I hugged my knees in the empty hallway. All I could think was how could Lucy do that to me, she got me expelled. More tears ran down my face, I started to cry. Then Stella came up to me and reached out her hand. I grabbed her hand and stood up

"Let's go to the library" Stella said wiping my tears.

"Ok, race you there" I said starting to run.

"Cheater!" Stella yelled trying to catch up to me.

When we got to the library we looked for hours at books, then Stella pulled out a random book and an opening in the wall appeared and lead to a secret staircase. We walked down the stairs it was very dark in there. We could hear water dripping and the stairs looked old and rickety. Luckily Stella had her phone to light the way.

"Can you see the bottom?" I asked Stella looking down into the darkness.

"No, but I found a door." She said pointing at a locked door.

I walked up to it. How do we get in? I thought. Then I looked down and saw a key. Wow, that was not hidden at all. I took the old key and unlocked the door. Inside was a book. We walked to it, the title was in French. I couldn't read it. I looked at Stella as she read the first page.

"It says that whomever reads this book will get magical powers." Stella said.

"Look it changed to English!" I said in shock

"Wow, Read it Luna." Stella said.

I looked at the first page than the second. Within an hour I read the whole book. I shut the book. Then looked at Stella. Stella was looking at me weird. Then I looked up my hair had changed. My hair was black and very short now it was a purple and it was much longer. Stella then handed me a mirror. Not only did my hair change but my eyes were now purple I seemed to be taller to. Then I looked at my hand it had an infinity symbol on it.

"Well I guess purple is a magic color." Stella said laughing.

"Yup, well I don't feel different. I just have a little tingle in my hands." I said

"Well let's get out of here." Stella said starting up the stairs.

I started to go up the stairs then the stairs started to brake and fall into the darkness bellow. I ran up the stairs as fast as I could. But then a saw Stella falling. She was yelling for help. I didn't know what to do. Then My eyes went all purple and glowed. My hands glowed too. I grabbed Stella with my magic. I floated up where the stairs used to be still holding Stella with my magic. When we got to the Library the secret opening disappeared. I fell over, and my eyes turned back to normal.

"You okay Stella?" I asked weakly

"Yeah." Stella said quietly.

She looked at me then got up, I got up as well. We looked at the time and saw that school was over. Stella went to her locker and I walked into the bathroom. The lights were off, and no one was in there, so I went to a mirror to look at myself. I was the same, but I seemed so different. Then Lucy walked in, she was wearing a hot pink tank top and white jeans, her long blonde hair in a high pony tail.

"Oh, hello sister, I see you dyed your hair and got extensions. Let me guess because you want to be cool?" she said rudely.

"Yeah, my hair is now purple, but I grew my hair long, unlike you little miss fake." I said.

She gave me an irritated look. Then she kicked me in the stomach. I tripped on a water bucket spilling water everywhere and I hit my back on the heater.

Lucy then walked out laughing and saying, "Just remember sister you will never be as powerful as me. I hope you enjoy your expulsion because of my little art project."

I sat there unable to move. Then I looked up and saw a camera and smiled. Then I yelled at the camera "Hey Stella come help me!" I started to laugh. Then Stella came in.

"You're a goofball you known." Stella said as she picked me up and took me to the nurse's office. After a couple minutes I walked out my face was white, and I was in complete shock. The nurse told me that I didn't get any bruises not even a sign that I got hurt. That night I went to bed. I was thinking of the class election and how me and Stella were going to expose her.

When I got to school I saw Lucy and her follower Cassie. Cassie was my friend in grade school, but then when she started the garden club in high school and met Lucy she was never the same. I walked up to Stella. Stella looked at me then held up her phone.

"Someone deleted all my proof about Lucy." Stella said tearing up. I hugged her and looked at Lucy. I saw she was yelling at Cassie and that Cassie was crying. I walked up to Lucy and Cassie. Then my eyes turned purple, Ding Ding. My phone went off, it said I got elected. Then I saw it say that the school newspaper had an article on Lucy and how she was not a kind person. I turned around and walked over to Stella, she was Smiling.

"You did it, Lucy has been exposed for who she really is." She said happily.

"I did." I said.

I knew that my new powers did it. I knew that I had something more powerful than being mean like my sister. Maybe these powers would help me change my sister. Lucy walked up to me and shook my hand.

"Well done, you got what you wanted but how? I deleted everything you did to expose me." Lucy said.

"Because I have something you don't" I said with a smirk and then my eyes glowed purple.